A unique conference, dedicated to the teaching and learning of English for medicine and healthcare.

The English for Healthcare conference aims to encourage an exchange of ideas to stimulate discussion and to provide a platform for the presentation of new approaches to the teaching and learning of language and communication in medicine.

We welcome proposals that relate to classroom practice and proposals that are research-based and develop our understanding of the language used in medicine and healthcare.

The conference attracts language teachers and communication skills trainers working with health professionals, both in training and in the workplace, and practitioners from the medical translation and interpreting field.

Areas/Themes include but are not limited to:

- Content-Based and CLIL
- English Medium Instruction
- Medical Academic English
- Language skills in EMP (Reading, Speaking, etc.)
- Assessment (e.g., OET)
- Technology in the EMP classroom
- Task-based and problem-based learning in English for medical purposes
- Role plays / Simulation in English for medical purposes
- Corpora in English for medical purposes
- Discourse analysis in English for medical purposes
- Professional practice and discourse
- Communication skills training for healthcare
- Interpreting /translation for healthcare
